A GOOD APPOINTMENT.
The President Makes a Wise Selection in the New Collector.

A representative of the Sun was in Owensboro yesterday and witnessed the transfer of the collector's office from Collector Yandell to Collector Franks. The entire office had been transferred before 9 a. m.

The business-like manner in which Collector Franks assumed charge and filled all vacancies is a practical demonstration that no mistake was made in giving him the appointment.
The appointments made yesterday were as follows:

S. W. Adams, of Marion, chief deputy.
N. B. Chambers, cashier.
S. A. LaHeist, division deputy,
Owensboro district.

W. J. White, stamp deputy, Paducah.
W. L. Hardigg, stamp deputy,
Uniontown.

J. W. Billyard, stamp deputy,
Henderson.

They were all good appointments,
and especially the appointment of W.
J. White, at this place. He is a young man always ready to serve his party and very popular with all classes; he will make a good officer and be a credit to the present administration. Mr. White will retain his position with T. Schwab.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Thomas Adams Comes In Contact With a Beam—Murderer Sanchez Now Safe in the Penitentiary.

Other News In and Out of the City of Interest to Local Readers—Assigned in Tennessee.

Thomas Adams, a well known farmer of Lovelaceville, this county, was seriously, if not fatally injured at Waltman's wagon-yard, on Jefferson street, between Fourth and Fifth, about 11 o'clock this morning. He was driving into the stable on top of a load of goods, when he perceived that a cross beam would strike him.
He stooped over to avoid it, and at the same instant the wagon struck an elevation and forced him violently against the beam, which struck him across the back.

He fell over and all possible assistance was at once rendered him, Dr.
Reddick being called. He was placed on a cot in the office, and this afternoon was suffering great pain from spinal injuries received. He was carried out to the residence of Mr. M. L. Bryan, 926 Trimble street.

Al Sparks, a well known painter, is in a dying condition from flux at his home on North Seventh street, and is not expected to survive the day.

Fred Sanchez, whose murdered bride occupies a grave in Oak Grove here, has been taken to the penitentiary in Colorado to serve the reminder of his days, unless he should escape or some day be pardoned.

Officer Jeff Barnhart, of the city, a relative of the murdered girl, is in receipt of a letter giving the facts of his conviction and transference to the penitentiary. The letter states that a heavy guard had to be kept about the jail to prevent the people from lynching him.

A. E. Caldwell, a dry goods merchant of Kenton, Tenn., made an assignment today, G. P. Hunt being his assignee. The liabilities are $2-the same. It is the second assignment in three years.

reply had been received this after-

TUESDAY, NOV. 23, 1897.

The own dear son of one of the council-elect was defeated for office, and now the father, according to reports, may decline to qualify as a member of the council.

If a Republican administration had nominated the slate the Democratic council-elect has arranged, the Democratic papers would be busy looking up police court records for the edification of the public.

MAYOR YEISER says he will be glad to leave the public service next month, but his successor and the Democratic council will be much gladder two years hence, if they keep up the pace they have started.

The council has decided on exactly the right course in the sewerage matter. A public inspection will satisfy all who witness it that our system is all right, and for those who fail to witness the test there is no excuse, as everybody is invited.

It is now said that the council-elect has nominated two Republicans, one who is at present holding office under a Republican administration, and another who was elected to one of the best paying positions on the calendar.

One object of the recent conference of democrats at Louisville was to place a hundred thousand dollars of stock to secure the permanence of the Louisville Dispatch. The silver leaders deserve commendation for one thing. They recognize the influence of a good newspaper.

POSTMASTER General Gary is strongly in favor of postal savings banks. He says the people who will not trust the banks will trust the United States, and then the people who have small savings with no place for deposit, have several hundred million dollars, which is lying dead, and would be brought to life by the aid of the postal bank—because idle money is dead—and this money would be put into circulation through these banks.

The probable annexation of Hawaii and the possible acquisition of Cuba by the United States would if consummated impart a wonderfully invigorating influence to our coasting trade and would do a vast deal towards restoring to America her former equality on the high seas. The immense increase of the coasting trade which would follow the annexation of these two wonderfully fertile islands, would start America to ship building again, and once the Americans begin ship building, the English monopoly of that vast industry will be threatened, if not destroyed.

CONGRESSMAN C. A. TOWNE, of Minnesota, and chairman of the National Committee of Free Silver Republicans, declares that, in view of the failure of the Wolcott commission to Europe to secure bimetalism, that "the crisis has come." Mr. Towne is the ablest advocate of free silver that came into prominence in the campaign of last year. No one knows better than Mr. Towne that free silver can stand only one more defeat, and no one knows better than he that as an issue, in its present form, it will probably not endure until 1903. Of a truth the crisis for free silver is here.

THE Democratic papers are giving columns of rubbish about the situation in Ohio, and are telling their readers that Senator Hanna will not be elected. This stuff is hardly good nonsense. There is no Republican in Ohio who expects a future who would refuse to vote for Mark Hanna. He will be elected on the first ballot. There is a man named McKissin, one of these would-be bosses, who has infested Republican politics in Cleveland for years, and whose pretensions were turned down by Hanna. This fellow is being made a national character by Democrats who tell how McKissin—the great and only McKissin—is going to defeat Hanna. McKissin does not amount to a row of beans, and will never be heard of after the Ohio legislature votes in January.

Our exports of sewing machines average at least $2,500,000 a year. Last year they arose to over $3,000,000, the trade showing a gain even in such competitive markets as England, Germany and France. Great Britain has been our chief competitor, having paid us nearly $25,000,000 for sewing machines in the last thirty years. Germany comes next with $16,000,000; then Australia, Mexico, France, Columbia, Brazil, Cuba, etc., in order. In all we export about 150,000 machines a year. Many of these are furnished without the stands for machines turned by hand, and are in much more general use abroad than at home. In some countries it is the custom for the tailors to go from house to house to do sewing, and they have to have hand machines to carry with them.

A PAPER read at the recent meeting of the American cotton manufacturers in Philadelphia contains some very interesting statistics as to the cotton goods trade of the world. It is practically in the hands of four countries and divided about as follows: Great Britain $3,32,331,000; Germany $17,742,000; France $28,757,000; United States $19,840,000. The surprising thing about these figures is that Great Britain, without a pound of native raw cotton, should spin and weave over 77 per cent. of the cotton goods purchased by other nations, while the United States, which produces over half of all the cotton grown in the world, supplies less than 5 per cent. of the manufactured cotton which other countries buy. Over 55 per cent. of the world's trade in cotton is in the hands of Great Britain, Germany and France, neither of which raises a pound of cotton at home, and all are dependent on the United States for their raw fiber.

Society Gossip.

Thanksgiving week with its mirth and music promises to be one of merriment for the society folks in the city.

It is a pleasantly notable fact that the young men's german club has re-organized for the season, and the opening dance will be given at the Palmer House on Thanksgiving evening.

Mrs. Millie Davis entertained at Crokinole last week in honor of Mrs. Mat Rawls, of Evansville, guest of Mrs. William Hughes. The honoree came out victorious and carried off first prize a choice potted chrysanthemum. The contestants were: Mr. and Mrs. Cook Husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Rawls, Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, Miss Mattie Fowler, Mr. Courtney Ellis, and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Leech.

One of the smartest and most interesting events of the past week was the Loan exhibit, given by the ladies of the Episcopal church at the Rectory, Saturday evening, for the benefit of an Indian mission in the territory.

The collection of curios were wonderful, some from foreign lands, others from America. The loans were both interesting and valuable, and in every way the entertainment was a great success.

Mrs. John P. Campbell entertained the Duplicate Whist club this afternoon at the Palmer House.

The young ladies Matinee Cinque club will be entertained by Miss Clara Thompson on South Sixth street Wednesday afternoon.

Friday afternoon the Magazine Club will meet with the Misses Robison on Ninth street. Reports from Review of Reviews, Forum and Century will be read.

Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock at St. Francis De Sales church, Father Jansen officiating, the marriage of Miss Amelia Rapp and Mr. J. J. McLaughlin will take place. The attendants are Miss Gene Sisk and Mr. Andy Sisk. After an Eastern bridal tour the couple will be at home to their friends on Court street, between Eleventh and Twelfth.

The annual ball of Plain City lodge of the International Order of Machinists will take place Wednesday evening at the Palmer House.

Mr. Muscoe Burnett, assisted by Miss Mary Burnett, this evening entertains the As You Like It Club, and Miss Susan Sneed, of Henderson, with a dancing party.

TRAGEDY IN REAL LIFE

A Graphic Story Concerning the Fate of a Young Lady.

Here is a graphic narrative from real life showing how many of our friends when we love, may be on the verge of a great tragedy.

A young girl residing on Madison Avenue, New York, and who had been in society but a short time, was preparing to attend a ball for which great preparations had been made. She was in her own room on the second floor over the tailor, and called down to her mother regarding certain matters connected with her new dress. The mother answered, but received no response, nor did she receive a word of reply to her continued answers. The mother therefore climbed the stairs, and found her daughter lying dead upon the side of the sofa. As is usual in all cases of sudden death, heart disease was assigned as the cause, but a careful examination by competent physicians revealed the terrible fact that the young lady met her death from acute Bright's disease of the kidneys.

The above painful accident is related precisely as it occurred, the names of the parties only being suppressed owing to their prominence in the story is related to impress the fact of how many people there are, apparently in good health and yet actually on the verge of the great Kidney diseases are the most deceptive and the most dangerous of all.

known complaints. Their subtle poisons steal into the system like a thief, manifesting few if any symptoms, and usually no pain whatever, then suddenly, without warning, they eliminate in acute Bright's disease, and eventually, too often, in death. In many cases they assume the symptoms of other diseases and a vast number of headaches, coughs, chills, lack of appetite, sleeplessness and feverishness trace their cause to deranged kidneys or disordered adjoining organs. Very often this tendency to Bright's disease is inherited,

ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT TACT. The girl with pensive eyes, and a sweet, sad smile, allowed both of these features to have full play as she announced that her engagement had come to an untimely end.

"I brook it, of course," she said pensively, "and I really don't think any of you will blame me, when I tell you how it happened. You know that Tom and I were going on the straw ride to Cold Springs, didn't you? Well, we went; and it was while we were out there that I definitely decided that all had better be broken off between us. I am awfully sorry for Tom, but I really could not help it."

"What did he do? Make love too openly, or refuse to let you flirt?" queried the listeners in chorus, and the plaintive girl shook her head sadly.

"Neither," she responded, with melancholy satisfaction; "but worse than either—in a way. I could respect a man who was jealous, but a man with no more sense than to let such an opportunity go by him and never try to improve it, would never satisfy my nature, I know. Just let me tell you how stupid he was."

"The ride out was lovely, although I didn't enjoy it much, personally. We were so crowded, you see, and I like—well, quiet conversation, you know, at such times. But when we left the wagon I was somehow or other managed to lose the others, and that worried Tom into a fit."

"They'll think we missed them on purpose," he kept repeating, just as if that wasn't the very thing they were all trying to do in regard to us and each other. So he insisted upon playing search light, and when we didn't find anyone he was utterly miserable. Actually he never paid me as much attention as he would a rabbit, much less say any nice things to me."

"Well, our hunt after a while, proved successful, and who should we see in the distance engaged in a lively tete-a-tete but a fellow with his second best girl. So after after them Tom drew—and I knew they were simply chinking with rage—and persisted in sitting up with them and riding back home on the same seat with them, so as not to create any ill feeling—to be sociable you know. I didn't say anything then—I was paralyzed, completely—but I realized at once that a man so tactless and silly as that would never make me happy in the world, and back went his sparkler the next morning."

but acute Bright's disease, too often, arises from colds and the closing of the pores of the skin from change of weather.

Notwithstanding the fact that this disease is so common and so dangerous, there has been but one scientific discovery for effectually preventing it or checking it after it has begun to fix its fangs upon the system. That remedy is acknowledged by the medical profession of the world, and is used in greater quantities in other countries than even in the United States. It has become a household remedy and it richly deserves the reputation it has secured. That remedy is Warner's Safe Cure.

There are thousands of men and women throughout the length and breadth of the land who owe their prolonged lives and present health to its faithful use. There are women who were once pale, sallow and sickly and suffering from painful complaints peculiar to their sex, who are today bright, rosy, healthful and grateful to the remedy that has produced this remarkable change. There are men who were once broken down, listless, nervous and despondent, and who are now in complete health, are able to attend to their duties without fatigue, who glorify the power of Safe Cure.

Among the physicians throughout the world who speak in the highest terms of this great remedy are Dr. William Robeson, of England; Dr. Byer, of Germany; and Dr. E. A. Gunn and Dr. Lewis, of America. In speaking of this great remedy, Dr. Robeson, of England, said: "I emphatically state that I have been able to give more relief and effect more cures by the use of Warner's Safe Cure than by all the medicines in the British Pharmacopoeia."

If any man or woman who reads this is suffering from any of the symptoms above mentioned, and desires to avoid the fate that is overtaking so many worthy people, prompt action should be taken at once. Bear this carefully in mind.

Is Silver the Farmer's Friend? An interesting table has been prepared showing how wheat began in September, 1897, to rise in price, beginning at 67.2 cents a bushel and ascending to 80 cents in October, to 92.7 cents in March, 1897, to 99 cents in August and $1.03 on September 1, 1897. Paralleled with this line of figures is another line showing how silver began at 22.2 cents per ounce on September 1, 1897, and fell steadily, while wheat was rising, getting by August, 1897, to 57.1 cents per ounce and by September 1, 1897, to 51.2 cents per ounce. The moral of the parallel is that wheat is not tied to silver any more than to gold. If we had been on the silver basis from September, 1897, to September, 1897, the rise in the price of wheat due to scarcity would have been nullified to some extent by the fall of the value of the white dollar received in payment for it. As it was, the farmer in September, 1897, got $1.03 per bushel in gold, or $2.06, according to Mr. Bryan—Baltimore Sun.

Sold Hocking Away.

Eight countries have adopted the gold standard since the silverite began work with his little hatchet. The tree is bigger and stronger now than ever.

The Original Kansas Silver Man. When the first white settlers arrived at Wathena, in 1855, they found an old chief with quite a herd of ripening corn. One Mr. Bryan (another silver coincidence) offered the chief one dollar a row for 20 rows of the corn, which offer was accepted. Mr. Bryan handed him a $20 goldpiece. The old chief looked it over carefully and then laid it down. Mr. Bryan (another silver coincidence) offered the chief one dollar a row for 20 rows of the corn, which offer was accepted. Store pride is pardonable when achievement is worthy.

And any store may feel justly proud when it possesses the full confidence of the public to which it caters. This is ideal shoekeeping, but it is a high ideal, and striving for it we in every way improve the real. We want this store to be pointed out as being in every way worthy of patronage. Nothing short of this satisfies us. There are certain principles at the foundation of this business, and our policy is but the outgrowth of those principles. If you are in doubt as to this, try us; the more you know of our methods the better you'll like them.

A WEEK OF DRESS GOODS SELLING. And it should be the biggest week of the season. We've a stock from which you can select your winter dresses with perfect satisfaction. Worthy materials through and through, the stamp of style everywhere. The true economy of price for the material in every piece we show you.

This week's sale includes: Twenty-five broadcloth half wool dress pattern suits for 98c, worth $1.50 each. Nineteen strictly all-wool pattern suits, real values $2.25, special for this week at $1.69 each.

Every dollar will do double duty here the current week in the purchase of pattern suits at $5.00, $6.00, $7.00, $8.00 and $10.00 a suit.

You'll find a handsome stock of black dress goods, broadcloths, etc., at money-saving prices here to select from.

Fur and feather collarettes, special this week for $2.98 each. COATS FOR THIS WEEK'S SELLING. We've a stock of capes and jackets here that is up to date in every particular. The success of this important department has been gained by selling honest, reliable garments at lower prices than you pay elsewhere. Great values are offered for this week. Don't miss your share of them. Capes at $3.75, $4.50 and $5.00 a garment.

The many capes and jackets to be had here for $5.00, $6.00, $7.00, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $12.00 and $15.00 a garment are just the kind that you will appreciate: worthy materials through and through, and the stamp of style on every garment.

MILLINERY. Paducah's busiest millinery department offers extraordinary bargains this week. Every day is bargain day. Great values come and go quickly. New purchases, great sales. We bought new things for this week; we thought you'd like them, and here they are. Come and see them.

DIFFERENT THINGS. If you'd like to buy, there's more to select this for a quarter. And the children's union suits for 25c are the best I pay to select. These stockings at 10c, 12.5c, 15c and 25c are the worthy sort that's holding our laundry sales. These Roman plaid and striped ribbons at 10c, 12.5c and 25c a yard are positively worth selecting. Such extraordinary values in men's stock underwear and drawers are exceptional for only $2 a garment.

We wish, if shoe selling indicates where the bargains are, the extra profit is here. The best shoes in America today at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 a pair. HARRINGTON'S, North Third street, just back of Wallstreet's.

METROPOLIS MARAUDERS.
Our Sister City Suffering From Burglars.
Garrett Simmons Had $150 Stolen Last Night.
Metropolis is troubled with burglars. Saturday night they broke into several residences and stole $6 and a watch from Gene Lafont, and last night they made several other raids. At Garrett Simmons they broke in and stole the slumbering citizens' pants, in one pocket of which there was $150. The breeches were left hanging on the back fence, indicating that the thieves didn't need them.
They also broke into the residence of a man named Benjamin and took his trousers, but found nothing in them, and left them hanging on the fence.

THE 'COKE' HABIT.
It Elicits Some Timely and Germane Remarks From Judge Sanders—A Friend In Court.
Judge Sanders Announces He Is Going to Make a Charge—Police Court Doings.
Judge Sanders, in commenting on the cases before him this morning, made an announcement that will be very displeasing to violators of the law. He declared that he intended hereafter to be more strict and run his court on different principles from those to which it has been run heretofore. He said that during the next four years he was going to break up lawlessness to the extent of his ability, and was going to begin at once by the abolition of leniency.
The most important case on the docket was against Ernest Clavels, colored, charged with maliciously cutting Florence Thompson. It appears from the evidence that he became jealous because the woman put Will Tucker's hat on, and slashed her across the thigh. The wound was not deep, and he claims it was inflicted accidentally. The woman evinced a disposition to scream him, and the case was left open to hear Tucker's testimony.
A question that is destined to play an important part in the criminal practice of the country came up in the police court this morning.
Charley Brown, a big, indolent looking negro, sat stupidly in one corner of the prisoners' dock with his heavy head resting on his hands, oblivious to everything about him.
"I hereby call the attention of this audience," remarked the court half facetiously, "to that thing over there in the corner. He is full of 'coke,' I believe the darkeys call it. He was arrested last night—several hours ago—but you can see for yourself that he is still under the influence of the deadly drug.
"The cocaine habit, or 'coke,' as they call it, is increasing with startling rapidity, and it is now the popular fad with colored people of dissipated inclinations, and with some white people, I understand. It is the cheapest and quickest way they have

CLOTHING AND SHOES
THIS WEEK THAN EVER
There is a bright future for our shoe business. It ought to be so, for two practical reasons: First, that each pair is guaranteed to render good service; second, that we sell shoes at a trifle cheaper, which means cheaper than those who serve the people with honesty. Now is your time to get your fall and winter clothing and shoes, on which we can help you to save from 25 to 35 per cent.
On men's, boys' and children's clothing and shoes we have some tempting bargains.
We also carry a big assortment of underwear, overshirts, hats, caps, gloves, etc., which we will close out at greatly reduced prices.
